

2014 ACSA/AIK International Conference

A fascinating and culturally-based urbanism has emerged in Asia and elsewhere, fueled by aggressive investment in education, technology, and cross-disciplinary innovations. This focus has established a diversified and culturally advanced lifestyle, one that is reversing prevailing trends of Westernization in favor of a more globalized and sophisticated world-view. Its effects are unprecedented – and include the emergence of a premier service-industry typology, a fresh new paradigm for a global post-industrial city, the new and expansive open city. Join the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture and the Architectural Institute of Korea for this stimulating event.

OPEN THE NEW POST-INDUSTRIAL CITIES WORLD ORDER

WHEN: June 21-23, 2014
WHERE: Ewha Womans University
CHAIRS: Alice Kimm, University of Southern California
Jaepil Choi, Seoul National University

+ Keynote by TOYO ITO

INFO AT ACSA-ARCH.ORG

Call for Paper Abstracts

Abstracts are invited to be submitted for presentations that explore the issues raised by the conference theme in eight topic areas, listed below, and one flexible open category. Authors of selected abstracts will deliver a fifteen-minute presentation in a conference session with two or three other authors. One of the topic chairs will also deliver a response to the presentations. Submitted abstracts should be in English, no longer than 500 words, and prepared for blind review. Following the conference, authors will be invited to develop their presentation into a full-paper for the conference proceedings.

Emergent Models of Architectural Education: Pedagogy + Curriculum + Students

Frances Bronet, University of Oregon
Tomoaki Tanaka, Meiji University

Urban Environments + New Regionalism: Interventions for Public + Private Spaces

Margaret Crawford, University of California, Berkeley
Inha Jung, Hanyang University

Architecture + Change in the Public Realm

Martha Thorne, IE University
Young-min Koo, Inha University

Paradigm or Practice: Models of Design + Research for a New Global Age

Mary-Ann Ray, University of Michigan
Eulho Suh, Suh Architects

Design + Building in the Open City

David Erdman, University of Hong Kong
Hayub Song, Chung-Ang University

Technology + Lifestyle: Theories and Methods in an Expanded Field

Marcus Shaffer, Pennsylvania State University
Chae-Shin Yoon, Ewha Womans University

Resilient Communities: Design Strategies for Healthy + Sustainable Environments

Daniel Friedman, University of Washington
Sun-Young Rieh, University of Seoul

Parametrics + Planning: New Hybrids + Landscape Infrastructure

Sung-Ah Kim, Sungkyunkwan University
Bimal Mendis, Yale University

Open

Clark Llewellyn, University of Hawaii
Jin Baek, Seoul National University

Call for Research + Design Projects Exhibition

In recognition of the pedagogically and visually stimulating architectural research being produced by academicians and practitioners all over the world, the Open Cities Conference will feature...are invited to submit projects and reports on ongoing research, presented in a single-page PDF document, along with an abstract. A selected shortlist of work will be exhibited in expanded format during the conference and published online thereafter. A special conference jury will select a number of projects. Accepted projects will be included in a physical exhibition held during the conference and in a summary publication after. Additionally, the jury will select a number of projects for special merit awards in Student and Professional categories.

Jurors:

Jaehee Chung, Hongik University
Peter Ferretto, Seoul National University
Hsin-Ming Fung, Southern California Institute of Architecture
Hahn Joh, HAHN Design
Alice Kimm, University of Southern California
Ken Min, SKM Architects
Eui-Sung Yi, Morphosis Architects/The Now Institute

Authors of abstracts and projects are encouraged to develop their work following the conference into articles for submission to the Journal of Architectural Education. The premier blind peer-review journal in architecture, the JAE publishes articles across the disciplinary spectrum under two categories: Scholarship of Design and Design as Scholarship. Find out more about the JAE, including current calls for theme issues, at www.acsa-arch.org/jae.

EWHA WOMANS UNIVERSITY

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE
SCHOOLS OF ARCHITECTURE

ARCHITECTURAL INSTITUTE
OF KOREA

SUBMISSION
DEADLINE

January 15

2014

ACSA-ARCH.ORG