II. ABOUT ACSA

Founded in 1912 by 10 charter members, ACSA is an international association of architecture schools preparing future architects, designers, and change agents.

Our full members include all of the accredited professional degree programs in the United States and Canada, as well as international schools and 2- and 4-year programs. Together ACSA schools represent some 7,000 faculty educating more than 40,000 students.

ACSA provides venues for international peer review and recognition in the form of scholarly journals, conferences, awards, and student design competitions. We provide intelligence and insight for our members through data collection and analysis, and we work to enhance teaching and research across the discipline through our volunteer members and often in partnership with peer organizations in education and practice around the world.

ACSA Mission Statement / Strategic Plan

Mission
To lead architectural education and research.

Core Values
- Teaching and Learning
- Equity
- Diversity and Inclusiveness
- Creative Scholarship, Research, and Practice
- Responsiveness

How We Lead
- Demonstrate the value of architectural education and research to practice and society.
- Advancing architectural pedagogy.
- Serving as the voice of architectural education.

For the full strategic plan, visit: www.acsa-arch.org/about/
ACSA Organization

Board of Directors
The ACSA Board of Directors is the administrative and governing body of the association, guided in its actions by a set of bylaws and rules of the board.

The board has 13 members: the president, first vice president/president-elect, second vice president, past president, secretary/treasurer, five at-large directors (At least one at-large director must be at a full-member school in Canada), a student director, public director, and the executive director (ex officio).

All terms of office, except for the executive director, begin on July 1. ACSA publishes an annual call for nominations for open board positions outlining eligibility requirements and desired competencies of candidates.

For more information about the Board please visit: www.acsa-arch.org/leadership/
Professional Liaison
ACSA engages regularly with the other national architectural organizations in the United States and Canada, including the National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB), American Institute of Architects (AIA), National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB), American Institute of Architecture Students (AIAS), National Organization of Minority Architects (NOMA). These include participation on joint programs and committees, as well as ongoing leadership meetings. ACSA also maintains relationships with analog organizations around the world for the purpose of sharing information on activities and facilitating international exchange.

For more information on these programs please visit: www.acsa-arch.org/acsa-community/collateral-related-organizations/

Operations
ACSA maintains several categories of membership for schools and individuals.

Full Member Schools
United States schools offering NAAB-accredited programs in architecture and Canadian schools offering a CACB-accredited programs constitute ACSA’s full member category. Faculty at all full member schools are automatically granted access to ACSA member benefits. Each summer ACSA asks full member schools to update their faculty roster. Dues for full-member U.S. schools are determined by the number of full-time equivalent (FTE) faculty using a three-category scale (small, medium, large). Canadian schools are charged a single rate for dues, regardless of faculty size.

Candidate Member Schools
United States and Canadian schools in candidacy for accreditation constitute this category. Candidate schools are charged a single rate for dues equivalent to that of a small full-member U.S. school, regardless of faculty size.

Affiliate Member Schools
Schools and institutions offering programs or courses in architecture or related disciplines within or outside the United States and Canada that do not qualify for full or candidate membership constitute this category. Community colleges and foreign institutions are among the largest group of affiliate members. Within the international affiliate membership category, architecture schools, which are accredited within their own country, qualify for the status of international associate.

Supporting Members
Individuals, organizations, and architectural firms interested in supporting architectural education may be supporting members of the organization. Supporting membership categories include: student, basic, contributor, sustaining member, sponsor, donor, patron, benefactor, and life member.

III. ROLES OF THE FACULTY COUNCILOR

The Faculty Councilor should be a full-time, tenured, or tenure-track faculty member elected by each full member school to serve as the liaison between the ACSA organization and individual faculty members and students at each school. Faculty Councilors are elected by their faculties for a three-year term and may be reelected. Schools should determine the processes for electing a Faculty Councilor. ACSA recommends a democratic process of election. As Faculty Councilor it is expected that you:

1. Share feedback regarding ACSA activities and topics affecting faculty at your school.
2. Vote on behalf of your school on official ACSA business transacted by ballot. (Only full member schools are eligible to vote.)
3. Participate in online or in person caucuses.
4. Serve as the source of information on your school’s activities and accolades by posting school news on the ACSA website.
5. Distribute ACSA journals to your faculty four times per year.
6. Share ACSA programs by hanging posters and sharing deadline reminders with your faculty.

How to Be Heard
ACSA holds regional caucuses and an Annual Business Meeting in conjunction with the Annual Meeting. All members are invited to participate in these meetings, but we rely specifically on Faculty Councilors to attend the meetings and share any outcomes with their faculties. ACSA may also organize other formal or informal business meetings throughout the year. We will contact Faculty Councilors directly to encourage your participation.

How to Get Involved
ACSA relies on its volunteer members to carry out the organization’s mission. Each year ACSA appoints or elects members to serve on the board of directors, committees, task forces, peer review bodies, juries, among other opportunities.

ACSA publishes calls for nomination throughout the year, and will encourage Faculty Councilors to nominate colleagues or encourage their colleagues to participate. Among the regular calls are:

- Board of directors (published in August, October deadline)
- NAAB director (published in August, October deadline)
- NAAB visiting team (published in December, March deadline)
- Committee and other volunteers (published in February, May deadline)

Voting. Formal ACSA business, such as annual elections, happens through online voting or at the Annual Business Meeting. Only Faculty Councilors at full member schools are eligible to vote on behalf of their schools. However, schools may arrange for a proxy to participate in the Annual Business Meeting.
IV. PROGRAMS

Conferences

ACSA holds multiple conferences throughout the year. These events provide opportunity for peer-reviewed presentation, skill-building workshops, and opportunities for exchange.

2020 AIA/ACSA Intersections Research Conference: CARBON
Virtual Fall Conference - Conference dedicated to the intersections of education, research and practice.

2020 Administrators Conference
Coming Soon

109th Annual Meeting - St. Louis, MO
ACSA Annual Meeting typically held in March, ACSA’s main scholarly meeting

2021 UIA International Conference - Rio de Janeiro
Scholarly Meeting held every two years typically in June outside the U.S. and Canada

2020 Administrators Conference -
Conference for Deans, Directors, etc. to share best practices

2021 ACSA/EAAE Teachers Conference - Brooklyn, NY
Conference is a collaboration between EAAE + ACSA. Scholarly work responds to the 10 scholarship themes.

Each year’s ACSA Annual Meeting proceedings provide a contemporary record of faculty papers selected for presentation through a rigorous peer review process. Papers presented at the ACSA Peer-reviewed Conferences are available in the searchable online ACSA Index and print copies may be purchased through the ACSA website.

Conference Proceedings
Can be found at the ACSA bookstore

Journals

Journal of Architectural Education
The Journal of Architectural Education is a biannual peer-reviewed academic journal published by Routledge on behalf of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. The JAE has been the primary venue for research and commentary on architectural education since it was founded in 1947, making it the oldest continuing operating journal of its kind.

Upcoming Deadlines:
February 1, 2021 for JAE 75:2
August 2021 for JAE 76:1

Technology | Architecture + Design
TECHNOLOGY | ARCHITECTURE + DESIGN is a publication venue for building technology researchers who seek to articulate the value and relevancy of technology for architecture and design. TAD is committed to disseminating research and scholarship contextualized within disciplinary, cultural, and ethical frameworks. Through peer-reviewed and solicited content, TAD provides a forum for discussion and debate about the impact of technological forces on design and practice. TAD was first published in May 2017.

Upcoming deadlines:
January 15, 2021 for TAD 5:2 Intelligence
June 15, 2021 for TAD 6:1
Awards

Every year, ACSA recognizes outstanding faculty achievements with the following awards:

- AIA/ACSA Topaz Medallion for Lifetime Achievement in Architectural Education
- ACSA Distinguished Professor Award
- ACSA/IAIA New Faculty Teaching Award
- ACSA Creative Achievement Award
- ACSA Faculty Design Award
- ACSA Diversity Achievement Award
- ACSA Collaborative Practice Award
- ACSA Practice + Leadership Award
- ACSA Design-Build Award
- ACSA/IAIA Housing Design Education Award
- Journal of Architectural Education Best Article and Best Design Article Awards
- Technology + Architecture + Design Research Contribution Award
- Best Paper & Best Project

For more information please visit: www.acsa-arch.org/programs-events/awards
Competitions

ACSA student design competitions challenge faculty and students to investigate a variety of materials, contexts, building programs, and theoretical concepts. Over the years, sponsors of this popular program have included the American Institute of Steel Construction, the American Institute of Architects, and the Portland Cement Association among many others.

2020-21 COTE Top Ten for Students Competition

The program challenges students, working individually or in teams, to submit projects that use a thoroughly integrated approach to architecture, natural systems, and technology to provide architectural solutions that protect and enhance the environment.

2021 Course Development Prize

A competitive call for course proposals on the theme "Architecture, Climate Change, and Society"

2020-21 ACSA/AISC Steel Design Student Competition

The program is intended to challenge students, working individually or in teams, to explore a variety of design issues related to the use of steel in design and construction.
Faculty Resources

ACSA faculty resources where faculty can find resources on member networks, online discussions, diversity, and Information.

Member Networks
ACSA invites faculty, students, and others to help establish action networks organized under various topics.

ACSA Online Discussions
Online discussions centered around the pivot to online learning and equity in architecture.

COVID-19 Response and Resources
This page is intended to provide information on online discussions and events, networks, and tools for our members and will be updated frequently as new resources become available.

ArchCAS

Are you looking to increase the number of applicants to your programs? Reach new markets? Make better admissions decisions more quickly? With ArchCAS, it’s possible. ArchCAS is a web-based centralized application service (CAS) that allows students to apply to multiple participating programs with a single application and facilitates a streamlined admissions process for admissions offices. This service is FREE. There is no cost to schools for participation.

CAS Benefits

Over 7,000 programs on more than 800 campuses leverage one or more of Liaison’s 42 Centralized Application Services (CASs™). Read on for three common outcomes of using a CAS.

- A CAS will save you time - Temple University shaved 75% off application review time by implementing a CAS.
- A CAS Can Increase your applications - With a CAS, Dominican University was able to increase applications tenfold with no additional marketing spend.
- A CAS can expand your reach - University of La Verne nearly doubled its out of state applicants in just one year with a CAS.

For more information on ArchCAS, please visit archcas.liaisoncas.org.
Study Architecture

StudyArchitecture.com is the only comprehensive survey of all professional degree-granting institutions in architecture. As such, it is a basic resource for both high school students planning a career in architecture and students pursuing graduate degrees.

In addition to the comprehensive program descriptions of full and candidate ACSA member schools, a quiz is available to help prospective students find architecture programs, along with a breadth of resources to help the prospective college student select an architecture program. We list ACSA affiliate member programs in our blog post section of the Study Architecture website.

The website’s content is generated by the latest information added by each school’s chief administrative contact.

Data + Research

In an effort to support member schools, ACSA employs a full-time Director of Research and Information to lead ACSA’s efforts in collecting, analyzing, and visualizing data about architectural education. Research topics draw from ACSA initiatives (such as faculty and student diversity) or data provided by member schools (annual budget and enrollment surveys). Data generated by ACSA conferences, competitions, and journals are also sources for research project. When appropriate, ACSA will also utilize the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS), which is publicly available, and the National Architectural Accrediting Board has agreed to share data from its Annual Report System with ACSA for research purposes. ACSA also has established research partnerships with external groups. More information surrounding current initiatives can be found on the Data Resources page of the ACSA website.

For more information on Data + Research visit: acsa-arch.org/resources/data-resources

Where Are My People? Black in Architecture

Where Are My People? is a research series that investigates how architecture interacts with race and how the nation’s often ignored systems and histories perpetuate the problem of racial inequity.

Where Are the Women? Measuring Progress on Gender in Architecture

The farther up you look in the world of architecture, the fewer women you see. We’ve rounded up some publicly available metrics behind this claim, in order to examine them more closely.

ACSA Institutional Data Report 2020

This report investigates current and historical metrics of institutional effectiveness and details more than 530 architecture degree programs.

Index of Scholarship

The Index is a database that catalogs faculty research at ACSA member schools, to help identify experts in a particular area.
V. SUBMITTING SCHOOL NEWS

Contents
ACSA publishes, free of charge, brief announcements in the categories below. ACSA faculty are encouraged to submit announcements (preferably 500 words or less) for inclusion on our ACSA News page. All submissions may be edited prior to publication.

Advertising
Does your school have a job opening? Post it on our job ads page!
Have a new program and want to spread the word?
Complete advertising information is contained in the ACSA Media Kit, available on the website, www.acsa-arch.org/opportunities/advertise/, or upon email request from the ACSA office, info@acsa-arch.org.

National Reports
These articles include monthly reports from ACSA leaders and collateral organizations (the AIA, AIAS, NAAB, NCARB, RAIC). Special feature articles of interest to ACSA membership may also be submitted. All items will be considered, and ideas for articles are welcome. Also included are reports on ACSA members and news of national note, such as:
• Administrative and teaching appointments, resignations, retirements, obituaries
• International visiting faculty appointments
• Awards of national/international importance
• Grants received by individual faculty members from external agencies
• Publication of new books by faculty
• Design awards from state and national AIA or national magazines
• New programs or major curricular changes
• Accreditation news
• Grants to a school or program
• Major new facilities
• Major anniversary celebrations
• New permanent off-campus study centers in the U.S. or abroad

Opportunities
• Calls for papers, abstracts, or design submissions
• Conference announcements of interest to architectural faculty
• Competitions for architecture faculty
• Faculty study-abroad or travel opportunities
• Noteworthy national/international educational competitions and opportunities
• Announcements of exhibitions and/or lectures of national interest to ACSA member faculty
• Generally not included:
  • Local-scope school lecture series
  • Events of insufficient scope or importance to draw people from outside the immediate area. This usually eliminates one-day programs
  • Student study-abroad or travel opportunities get social.

Are you or your students working on a really interesting project? If you share it on Instagram, tag #imadethat for a chance to be reposted and shown to over 30,000 people world-wide. The goal of IMADETHAT is to share the incredible work being done by students and faculty from architecture schools across the globe. We want to build a network of makers and create a platform to encourage sharing work to inspire the next generation of makers.

Already, we have gained over 40,000 followers and we have been growing by about 300 per week. We want to encourage you to ask your students to use the hashtag, tag the school, fellow students, and professors involved to spread the word of the work being done in your school.

1. Post an image or a video on Instagram.
2. Tag #imadethat
3. We will repost the top 3 each weekday.
